ABOUT

DIXON
REUEL

BIO

Irish, award winning & bestselling writer, Dixon Reuel is the author of Blood Brute - a five book Post Apocalyptic Paranormal series beginning with Rise of One. Dixon lives & writes out of her home base in Dublin, and holds a First in History & Early Irish Studies and another First in Creative Writing.

Dixon is a lifelong nerd & devoted hobbyist of cosplay, video games, and other surely worthwhile pursuits. She cannot stand monkeys or phone calls. To receive a phone call from King Kong would definitely be her greatest fear.

BOOK SERIES

The Blood Brute series is a psychological take on vampires verses a zombie apocalypse, with themes including the claustrophobia of an overbearing family & the dangers of their suffocating, 'crabs in a bucket' mentality.

The five-book series takes inspiration from the paintings of Thomas Cole's The Course of Empire Series.

Blood Brute covers the rise and fall of a vampire empire, when humanity is hamstrung by a zombie apocalypse.

SAMPLE INTERVIEW QUESTIONS

GENERAL:

- What is your favourite underappreciated novel?
- Why do you write under a pseudonym?
- How important is LGBT representation in your stories?
- What does literary success look like to you?

BOOKS:

- In Rise of One, your vampires are more like country homesteaders who shun society, why is this different from the historical portrayal of vampires?
- The Blood Brute series deals with a vampire coven surviving a zombie apocalypse. Where did this concept come from?
- Your SciFi shorts often deal with how tech interacts with the body and affects the human spirit. Why is this a recurring theme?

TESTIMONIALS

"Dixon Reuel has written a thought-provoking short story that manages to create a cold dystopian world and a tale with a deeper meaning."

-Harmemoric Asylum, Goodreads

"This story was detailed, well edited and had gorgeous imagery. The story is unique and creative, the concept is well executed and I was left in awe by the end."

-Powdered Souls, Goodreads

"The tale has a twist of irony with great elements of suspense. If this is the taster of a full course I'd like Dixon to serve up the full menu."
